Senator Faulkner Would Coin Silver,

And Retire All Bills Under Twenty Dollars.

The Administration's Influence Against It.

Senator Shoup Defends the Sherman Measure.

Suggestion for Closing the Senate Debate Meets With an Objection—The House
Discusses the Public Printing—

The Everett Chinese Bill By Telegraph to The Times. WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.-(By the Associated Press.) Senator Faulkner will introduce in the Senate tomorrow his amendment to the Sherman Repeal Bill. It will provide for the monthly coinage of $3,000,000 of silver till the aggregate of circulation of silver reaches $300,000,000, and will call for the retirement of all bills under $20 denom

canvassed the Senate on the amendnent, and was not prepared to say whether it would command a sufficient rote to secure acceptance. However, he had received many assurances of good will toward the principles suggested by the amendments from memers who express willingness to support it in case it is satisfactory in detail. He believed the great bulk of allver advocates, Republicans and Democrats like, would support the measure when they find it impossible to get anything nore favorable. Many repeal advocates, representing the conservative elements, would probably recast their votes for an amendment giving silver the limited recognition proposed.

It is definitely known, also, that the nfluence of the administration will be exerted in opposition to this and other compromises. Whether the amendment exerted in opposition to this and other compromises. Whether the amendment will be able to secure a majority vote despite the opposition, can only be ascertained by a canvass of the Senate's possible vote. It is not expected that the amendment, when introduced, will be taken up immediately.

Though the bill to repeal the federal election laws is to be presented tomorelection laws is to be presented tomor row in the House, it is not probable a debate on the measure will begin be-fore Friday. How long the discussion will last is unsettled. Republicans say will last at least a month. Representative Tucker of Virginia, who has the bill in charge, says there will be no limit placed upon the speakers, on the line of legitimate discussion; but as soon as it is apparent the minoricy is fillbustering, the Committee on Rules will be invoked for an order which shall compel a vote.

A good deal of opposition is manifested, even on the Democratic side, to present the consideration of the propo-sition to repeal the federal election sition to repeal the federal election laws. It is claimed it will detract attention from the Senate, and in this anger the cause of way endanger the cause or repeal. The answer of the Southern Democrats to this is brief but to the point. They say they have already sacrificed their opinions on silver to the position of the administration, and cannot go back to their constituents unless something is done directly desired by their sec-tion. Apart from this there is a general desire on the part of the Democratic leaders to have some questions brought forward upon which political lines can be visibly drawn. They point out that the Democratic party is not a unit upon silver, or the State bank tax, or the income tax, and there are differences of opinion as to the extent to which the tariff revision should go. On the question of aboli-tion of federal force at the polls there tion of federal force at the polls there is no division of sentiment. Leading Democrats are unanimous in the hope that there will be a lively political fight on the repeal of election laws. It has been so long since there has been a genuine political fight in the House that it will be welcomed, not only by Democrats, but by Republicans.

The exact programme which the Re publicans will follow in their opposipublicans will follow in their opposi-tion to the repeal of the federal elec-tion law is not yet made known. As a matter of fact, secrecy is being ob-served not without a purpose, the minerity being afraid of disclosing the plan of campaign to the enemy. All that they will say is to repeat the determination to fight until they can no longer hold out. The debate, as already indicated, promises to be very

> FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS. EXTRA SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(By the Associated Press.) Senator Mills of Texas gave notice that he would address the Senate on Tuesday.
Senator Stewart's resolution for the Finance Committee to ascertain whether any Senators were interested in national banks came up, and Senator Stewart addressed the Senate in Senators of it. After a few moments advocacy of it. After a few moments he diverged into a general discussion of the silver question. Senator Allen of Nebraska spoke on Senator Allen of Nebraska spoke on the resolution, saying there were hundreds of thousands, if not millions, of people in the country who believe much of the legislation in Congress is influenced by the personal interests of the Senators and Representatives. The Democratic confessed, he said, that their platform was a fraud and a false pretense, and that the party had thus secured the votes of the people. The Democratic Senators, he said, must abandon their party and join the ranks of the Populists, who were going to triumph in 1896. triumph in 1896.

At 2 o'clock the repeal bill was taken up, and Senator Voorhees asked that, a week from today, the debate close, with the understanding that the amend-ments would then be discussed, under the five-minute rule, until Saturday at 2 o'clock, when a vote should be taken. Senator Voorhees said he did this in the utmost good faith and with re-spect for every Senator and the Senate itself. If the majority in the Sen-ate was against the repeal bill, the fact should be known. If it was in fafact should be known. If it was in fa-vor of amending it, that should be known; but, as fair-dealing men, let the Senators come to some understand-ing when a vote might be expected to end their labors. Senator Dubois of Idaho, while ap-preciating the courtesy with which the Senator from Indiana was conducting the debtes wild that the

the debate, said that the matter too serious for undue haste, and that the silver Senators proposed to have a fair discussion. He therefore objected

Senator Voorhees said that nothing was further-from his purpose than to interfere with legitimate and wholesome debate. He (Voorhees) was a betsome debate. He (Voorhees) was a bet-ter friend of silver today than any man who resorted to obstructive methods to keep this miserable law on the statute book. He could not allow anybody to say he was in haste to destroy silver money. He expected, when the Sherman act was repealed, to engage in bringing about a proper system of coinage, as he had in the past engaged. His request to fix a time to take a vote would be renewed, perhaps, hereafter.

Senator Shoup of Idaho addressed the Senate in favor of free silver. He began his address with a liberal quotation from the President's message, and announced his failure to agree with the President as to the cause leading up to the present financial condition the President as to the cause leading up to the present financial condition of the country. He made a review of the condition of affairs as they existed twelve months ago, and showed by facts and figures that the country was a then prosperous, He said at that time both candidates declared for a double standard, and Cleveland as well as Harrison had accepted the nomination for the Presidency with the full knowledge of this pledge. When Cleveland became the standard bearer of and became the standard bearer of his party, he became the defender and champion of the principles enunciated by the party. Whether he is seeking to violate one of the serious declarations contained in the platform, his party associates and the country must de-

Senator Shoup said he did not pretend to know when Cleveland became convinced that it was necessary that the country should come to a monometallic basis, but he did know Villard and others appeared in Washington and began to lobby for the repeal of the Sherman law immediately after the election, and it was a fact that re-wards and punishments of the in-coming administration were invoked to influence that legislation.

The speaker did not believe the Sherman law had anything to do with the financial crisis. It injured no one ex-cept the residents of the silver-producing States. Indeed, he considered it had then he such benefit to the nation at large. Referring to the criticisms made by Senator Cullom that if the silver advocates were so much dis-satisfied with the Sherman act, they should join in its repeal, he said they recognized its disappearance at this time was probably the means of the permanent retirement of silver as one of the money metals. The Sherman law was now the only bulwark between bimetallism and monometallism in this country. He did not accept the idea that silver coinage would de-grade the financial standing of this country, and made a plea for independ-ence in monetary affairs, as in others of our concerns. He believed the pas-sage of a free coinage bill would im-mediately restore confidence and en-large our trade. Repeal would result in removing this country from the had of the column as producers of the precious metals, in the contraction of the currency, and the weakening of the country by destroying one of its general industries. He drew a strong picture of the dis-tress that would be occasioned in the silver-producing States. He asked: "Must the prayerful appeal of these people for justice pass unnoticed?"

He declared that he did not believe and could not believe that the majority of the Senate would favor repeal until after silver should be amply protected The Sherman law had been accepted as a compromise; it was all the friends of silver could obtain when the law was enacted; but as it is the only strand we have connecting silver with gold, he would oppose with all the vigor at his command its repeal until a better substitute was given. Senator Dolph of Oregon followed Senator Shoup, and said he did not believe that with free coinage at 16 to 1, or 20 to 1, or at any other ratio the concurrent circulation of gold and silver could be secured. Could the United States, he asked, ignore the action of the great commercial countries of the world in regard to silver?

On motion of Senator Voorhees, the Senate went into executive session, and shortly thereafter adjourned.

After the transaction of some trivial business, the House went into committee of the whole for the consideration of the Public Printing Bill. The bill deals with the entire question of the printing of public documents, and substitutes for the old plan a system which aims at economy by the appointment of a bureau through which all documents are to be sent out. Representative Hepburn of Iowa objected to a section permitting the Pub-lic Printer to sell stereotype or electrotype plates, and Chairman Richardson expressed a willingness to modify that section. Two hours' general debate on the bill followed, and then it was considered by sections under the five-min ute rule.

Due Notice. ROME, Sept. 13.—(By Cable and Associated Press.) The Italian govern-ment has received a dispatch from Rio Janeiro, dated yesterday, saying that Admiral de Mallos had informed the representatives of the foreign powers at Rio that the vessels of the insurgent squadron would open fire on the city's defenses at 9 o'clock this (Wednesday) morning. The forts in the bay would be first attacked, separately, it is believed, and upon the result of this bombardment future movements of the rebels will be decided.

In consequence of this announcement arrangements were made for foreign ships and merchant vessels of Rio to take positions outside the line of fire A British gunboat was to leave the bay early this morning, to warn all incoming vessels to stay off the coast until the result of the bombardment is Much anxiety is felt in Rio as to the ate of the city in the event of the success of the rebels, for, in spite of the dispatches sent by the government, there are doubts as to the loyalty of the forts in the bay. It is asserted the garrisons will, at the exchange of a few shots, haul down their colors and join the rebels. The government, how-ever, seems confident that the garri-sons are loyal, and the troops in the city also, even if the forts surrenger.

By Telegraph to The Times.

ARKANSAS (Kan.,) Sept. 13.-(By the Associated Press.) One hundred degrees of heat in the shade, the air filled with suffocating dust and hot winds blowing across the parched prairie, were the severe conditions that the boomers along the Cherokee line were forced to endure today. At this place over fifty were overcome by the heat, most of them being in line before the registration booths. Six have died, and others are in a critical condition. At Caldwell thirty-two were struck; two are dying. At there were twenty-two cases

Indications are that tomorrow will be a repetition of today. The crush at the registration booths has become so great that, from now on, they will be kept open day and night. During the three days which ended tonight, 42,300 certificates have been issued. The total number of certificates does not indicate the number of homeseekers, for most of the boomers take out certificates for both homestead and town lots. The Santa Fe brought in stroke and two deaths, and at Hen nessy eighteen strokes and one death

The majority come simply to see the fun. At Orlando, today, the soldiers rought fifty-three camp, and more are reported to be concealed along the streams in the for-bidden land. The boomers, in order to get rid of the speculators, will not permit anyone in line to sell his place. In consequence, the line thinned out ma-terially today, and is now composed wholly of bona fide homeseekers. The Rock Island took 3000 people into Caldwell today, and many more are coming tomorrow. The Young People's Soiety of Christian Endeavor has undertaken to relieve the suffering caused by a lack of water. The Leavenworth socity has pledged money to pay the exense of hauling water from Arkansas City to the booths, and three water-carts were put into service today.

The protests against the present conduct of registration, and the injustice to home-seekers in compelling them to stand the force of the sun and dust, almost without hopes of finally getting registered, has aroused the newspaper correspondents here to the necessity of putting the matter squarely before the Secretary of the Interior, and they sent him a telegram this evening, requesting that the booth be removed to more suitable location.

Action of a Stockholder Against Villard

And Others, Involving Millions of Dollars.

chicago Real Estate and Railroads Concerned-A Big Transaction in Bonds-The Matter Dates Back Several Years.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 .- (By the Assoclated Press.) John Swope of Pennsylvania, one of the stockholders of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, on behalf of himself and other stockholders, has begun an action in the Supreme Court against Henry Villard, Charles L. Colby, Colgate Hoyt, Edwin H. Abbott, the Northern Pacific Railroad; Thomas F. Oakes, Henry C. Rouse and Henry C. Payne, its receivers; and the Chicago and Northern Pacific Railroad Company, to compel the individual defendants to make restoration of millions of dollars, which, it is alleged, the Northern Pacific company was deprived of by means of fraud.

The complaint alleges that Villard, Colby, Hoyt and Abbott, in September, 1889, owned land at Harrison street and Fifth avenue, Chicago, upon which there is being constructed the Grand Central passenger station, and also controlled the Chicago and Great Western Railroad Company, the Bridgeport and South Chicago Railroad Company, and the Chicago, Harlem and Batavia Railroad Company, which operated lines of railroad within the limits of the city of Chicago; the value of the land mentioned and the railroad properties is said to have been $8,000,000 in March, 1890. Swope charges that these four men, in September, 1889, conspired to defraud the Northern Pacific company, by selling to it, through themselves as directors, all this Chicago railroad property and land for a price in excess of its value, so that they could make an exorbitant profit to themselves per-sonally in defrauding the Northern Pa-cific company. By the scheme they received about $18,500,000. sixty-five carloads of people today.

For the purpose of disguising the conspiracy, the Chicago and Northern Pacific Railroad Company was organized by Villard, Colby, Hoyt and Abbott, in November, 1889, with a capital stock of $399,000, secured by a mortgage on the property of the Chicago and Great Western Company. It is alleged that $19,950,000 in bonds were delivered to the four men in question in payment for the different properties mentioned, and shares of the capital stock in the three railroads in Chicago were assigned to the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company as trustee. Villard and associates then made to themselves, as wners and in control of the Wi sin Central company, a lease for ninety-nine years of all property of the Chi-cago and Northern Pacific company, subject to a lien of $30,000,000-mort-gage and other outstanding mortgages; was leased to the Northern company on a mortgage for ninety-nine

Northern Pacific Company, and two of his associates were directors. This was arranged so that, in addition to the profit of $10,850,000 already realized by them in bonds, they would be entitled to about one-third of the profits to be derived from the operation of the Chi-cago and Northern Pacific as soon as it became self-supporting.

The purpose of the suit is to have them restore to the Northern Pacific or to the Chicago and Northern Pacific $10,850,000 in bonds and 94,250 shares of stock obtained for Chicago properties. An accounting is sought at a fair market value of the property at Harrison street and Fifth avenue, Chicago, also of three Chicago railroads, and, after deducting the $1.049,000 encumbrances upon that railroad that Villard, Hoyt and Abbott deliver to the Chicago and Northern Pacific Company, all bonds of the company received by them in excess of the fair market value of the property or the face value. and Messrs. Everett, Hitt and Harmer.
The sub-committee meets on Thursday. The Everett bill simply provides for the extension of time of registration one year. It is probable that the sub-committee will reduce the time of limit to six months, and as there is also some queestion of what constitutes a Chinese laborer that term will be specially defined. Other amendments will look to the perfection of the bill, and will not affect its import.

Last night, at the conference held at the residence of Secretary Carlisic, at which, in addition to the Secretary of the Treasury, there were present Secretary Gresham, Atty-Gen. Olney and Representative Geary of California, the members of the administration expressed the opinion that the bill ought to be passed through both houses at once, and the intention was manifested of insisting upon going ahead with the bill today in the House.

Representative Geary, however, pointed out the radical effects of the bill, which would render its effects nugatory. He also declared the extension of the time of registering should be reduced to six months; that the term Chinese labor should be specifically defined, and the imprisonment clause should be modified. He also wanted a provision inserted for photographing all Chinese who registered. It was finally decided to agree to the modifications, and, accordingly, today the bill was referred by the Foreign Affairs Committee to a sub-committee that will meet tomerrow night.

Today it developed that Frasident Cleveland himself was not anxious to press the bill for fear it will complicate matters in the Senate. In fact, he is in favor of the House folding its hands and doing nothing until the Senate acts on the Sherman repeal bill. This was apparent for several days, also with reference to the Tucker bill repealing the existing Federal election laws. While the House leaders have no desire to embarrass the President in the fight in the Senate, they will not agree to the policy advanced by the White House. The Tucker bill will not reach the stage of debate this week, but early next week it is expected it will go into the arena of debate. Meantime the Everett bill will will well. will not reach the stage of debate this week, but early next week it is expected it will go into the arena of debate. No opinion was handed down, however, and when court adjourned for the day there was an air of disensed the highest control of the second of the highest cases.

of disappointment among the hitherto patient audience. Outside of the issuance of ten wai-rants for Riverside Chinamen, and a few for another batch of highbinders in this city, the only Chinese business of any moment transacted yesterday was the signing by Judge Ross of fourteen orders of deportation.

fourteen orders of deportation.

It will be remembered that on last Monday fifteen Mongolians were tried and ordered deported. In the case of one of these, a celestial answering to the suggestive name of Ah There, and who may possibly "stay there," a motion to set aside the judgment was taken under advisement by Judge Ross. Printed forms of orders for deportation Frinted forms of orders for deportation have been prepared for the use of the clerks, and on their arrival from the printing office yesterday morning, the olank spaces were promptly filled in and the orders signed by the judge. The fourteen Chinamen are therefore all ready now for transportation to the joint of embarkation. A decision in the case of Ah There is expected shortly.

the case of Ah There is expected shortly.
These fifteen Chinamen, together with the four highbinders whose cases are under advisement, are now in the County Jall. The seven who were sentenced last Monday morning will be taken north today by United States Marshal Gard, who has just returned from a similar trip to San Francisco. GARD'S EXPERIENCE.

A reporter saw the Marshal at his residence last night, and asked him, if his peculiar experiences as recounted in Tuesday's San Francisco papers were accurately described. Mr. Gard answered that he had a few words with a Chronicle reporter, but that the interview published in the Examiner was a fake; that no person connected with the latter paper had had any conversation whatever with him. The Examiner had also stated that the Chinese prisoners were left in the Alameda County Jail; this was only one of the errors arising from the reporter's too free use of his imagination. The five Chinamen were now in the San Francisco jail, but under rule 34 of the Supreme Court, were still in his custedy. Mr. Gard said it was much cheaper to leave them up there than to pay their carfare to Los Angeles and then possibly have to take them back to San Francisco again.

The Marshal said he arrived in San Francisco alst Saturday with his charges and proceeded to Collector Wise's office to turn them over as he had done with others before. But the Collector refused to receive them, as orders had been received from the Treasury Department that the process of deportation was entirely under the control of the Department of Justice. A reporter saw the Marshal at his esidence last night, and asked him if orders had been received from the Treasury Department that the process of deportation was entirely under the control of the Department of Justice, and must be fully carried out by United States marshals. On Sunday Mr. Gard wired Atty.-Gen. Olney that the first steamer sailed Tuesday, but that the notice of appeal to the Supreme Court would be served on him Menday, and asked for instructions. Atty.-Gen. Olney promptly replied that in such cases rule 34 of the Supreme Court would be applicable. That was all there was to it; he wasn't in any such a quandary as the San Francisco paper represented.

Mr. Gard then gave orders for the maintenance of the five Chinamen, and started south. The Marshal said he stopped over at Fresno Tuesday, and, in conjunction with the Chief of Police, a half dozen of the worst high-binders were "spotted" and warrants for their arrest given into the hands of Deputy Marshal H. L. Ranelie, who or their arrest given into the hands of Deputy Marshal H. L. Rapelje, who played such a prominent part in the capture of Evans and Sontag. One of these hatchet men evidently got wind of the Marshal's intentions and "skipped," but the other five have been captured and Deputy Rapelje is expected to arrive with them this morning.

pected to arrive with them this morning.

In this connection the Marshal jocularly remarked that the attorney for the highbinders, a Fresno lawyer named Hinds, threatened to take out writs of habeas corpus before the Superior Court in Freeno county. Deputy Rapelje asked his superior officer by wire yesterday what he should do in case he was served with such papers. Marshal Gard promptly ordered his deputy to pay no attention to any writ issued from the State court, as it had no jurisdiction over United States prisoners.

writ issued from the state court, as it had no jurisdiction over United States prisoners.

The Marshal was asked as to the situation in San Francisco. He replied that the Six Companies would subornly contest every case in which deportation was ordered under the sixth section of the Geary act, in faot, the legal representatives of the Chinese had so informed the Marshal. Nn such trouble was caused in the case of Wong Dip Ken, as he was deported under the former exclusion act, and not for failure to register. The Six Companies, it seems, having advised their coolles not to register, are now staying with them in the trouble caused by such treasonable counsef.

Mr. Gard said another little difficulty which stood in his way, had no appeal been taken, would have been the shipping of the Mongolians aboard the steamer China, which left the port of San Francisco last Tuesday. He was given to understand from a reliable source that the full steerage fare of $11 each would be expected in advance. It was claimed that the China is an English bottom and not subsidized by the Postoffice Department of the United States. For that reason the contract price of $35, arranged with other oriental vessels, would not hold good in this case.

His FUTURE COURSE.

The Marshal was then asked what his future course would be with regard to Chinese crdered for deportation. Mr. Gard said he would take them to to Chinese crotered for deportation. Mr. Gard said he would take them to San Francisto and place every one of them atcard a China-going steamer. He would carry out Judge Ross's orders to the letter. If habeas corpus proceedings were served on him, or he was compelled to abide by rule 34, as in the case of the five Chinese already in the San Francisco jail, he would keep them in his custody in the northern jails until the cases were finally decided. The Marshal said he anticipated no trouble from the Chinese, as when once in the hands of efficers of the law, they were very doclle and obedient, in fact, they were the easiest class of prisoners to manage.

To a final question of the reporter the Marshal replied that the transportation of Chinese to San Francisco, the port of embarkation, and the cost of feeding them from the time of apprehension and arrest to their actual deportation in a China-going steamer, were paid out of the regular appropriation for the maintenance of United States prisoners, and not out of the special fund provided by the Geary law. This latter sum of money was only to be used for the deportation of Chinese, i. e., for the actual cost of shipment from the designated port in the United States to the nearest port in China. In this way the $63,000, which the Secretary of the Treasury says is still to the credit of the exclusion act, would go a great ways and make a big hole in the 70,000 Chinamen now in California, i. e., if other sections of the country do not avail themselves of this law on the statute books. The Marshal also volunteered the statement that he had received no official orders from Washington that would in any manner contradict the telegram teceived from Atty-Gen. Olnylast Saturday. In this the marshals were instructed to carry cut the orders of court. Mr. Gard said that, so far, he had received nothing officially that would indicate any disposition on the part of the administration to evade the law. There was no doubt a great deal of sentiment in the East in favor of the Chinese, and the administration is surrounded by such an atm sephere, but no actual impediment had been placed in the way of a full observance of the Geary act.

THE SITUATION.

The local situation is one of expectancy on both sides. All are anxiously

THE SITUATION.

The local situation is one of expectancy on both sides. All are anxiously awaiting Judge Ross's decision as to what constitutes a Chinese laborer within the meaning of the exclusion act. The law officers are confident that the construction placed upon it by Dist.-Atty. Denis will be upheld, and are keeping up the work of issuing warrants and apprehending the highbinder class. Should, however, this position be held untenable by Judge Ross, those arrested under this condition of things must be discharged, and hereafter only bona fide laborers brought to trial.

These four cases now under consideration of the court are, on all sides, admitted to be in the nature of a severe

These four cases now under consideration of the court are, on all sides, admitted to be in the nature of a severe test, and upon their decision rests the future utilization of the law. If it can be made to rid this country of even a portion of an alien secret organization whose chief object is blackmall, and whose action often results in murder, there will be little objection to a strict enforcement of the registration clause even as any the most sentimental. But after ha, the whole question hingos upon the construction of the language as defined in a legal sense, and not upon moral grounds, and the matter is so understood by the attorneys on both sides.

There is a wide divergence of opinion on this point, and it is freely admitted that the question is a most difficult one to decide. The contention of the highbinders' attorneys that the term "Chinese laborer" does not include those who make their living by other means than manual occupation finds many supporters among those who have instigated this movement against the Mongolians, while on the other hand, many conservative citizens with whom the deportation of the Chinese criminal classes seems the first duty of the officers intrusted with the carrying out of the law maintain that the District Attorney has hit the nail squarely on the head.

The Chinese laundrymen and vegetable venders are beginning to get over their scare somewhat, and are slowly but gradually emerging from their hiding places. A few of the washhouses opened again yesterday, and a number of vegetable wagons appeared on the streets. Many who have watched the actions of the Chinese closely since the crusqde began say that the cunning heathens are making good use of the few among their members who have registered, and that those who neglected to take this step have placed their more fortunate brethren in charge of their interests. The unregistered among them, it is claimed, are still keeping out of sight, and will continue to do so until the danger is past.

The hotels and restaurants, who were and will continue to do so until the danger is past.

The hotels and restaurants, who were the first sufferers by the exodus of cooks and dishwashers, are filling their places with white men, in some cases with indifferent success, however. Contrary to expectation, proprietors have, as a rule, found it easier to get good, reliable white cooks than to obtain such help for the more menial positions in the kitchen. White men who are willing to take the positions vacated by Chinese dishwashers have been found very scarce, and, in a few cases, where obtained, very unreliable. As a general rule white men consider themselves above such positions, and even if led to accept such menial labor through force of adverse circumstances do not "stay with it" longer than they can possibly help. With a full stomach and a week's wages in his pocket no American whose abilities call for better reward in another direction will remain in a subordinate position in the kitchen. One restaurant proprletor told a reporter yesterday that since his two Chinese dishwashers fied about a week ago he has had six different white men taking turns af the work, and that as a result of their "quitting tactics" he has been compelled to buy many new dishes.

elled to buy many new dishes.

Officer Steele yesterday afternoon ar-osted a young man who gave his omeer steele yesterday atternoon arrested a young man who gave his name as Phil Umbray, on a charge of having stolen some horse brushes from an Aliso street liarness shop. When found, Umbray had one of the brushes in his prosession.

A REUNION.

The Society of the Army of the Tennesse Elects Officers. CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—(By the Asso-lated Press.) The annual banquet of clated Press.) The annual banquet of the Army of the Tennessee was held at the Palmer House tonight, some two hundred members of the society being present. The principal speakers were Father Thomas Sherman, Col. Cornellus Cable, Gen. James A. Williamson and Gov. McKinley of Ohio.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in the election of Gen. G. M. Dodge, president; Gen. Andrew Hickenloper, corresponding secretary; Col. Cable, recording secretary, and Gen. M. E. Force, treasurer. A number of vice-presidents were also elected.

WEST BAY CITY (Mich.,) Sept. 13.—A million feet of lumber on John Welch's dock was burned this morning. Loss, $100,000.

Riverside Notes. Riverside Notes.

W. W. Carr of West Riverside was severely injured while hauling hay yesterday. By a lurch of the wason he was thrown from the load of hay immediately in front of one of the wheels, which passed over his right shoulder and down his right side, almost the whole length of the body. He is dangerously injured and may not recover.

is dangerously injured and may hereover.

A deputy United States marshal yesterday afternoon arrested the ten Chinamen of Riverside for whom warrants had been issued, and took them to the San Bernardino County Jail.

C. E. Payne, president of the city railway company, while driving with a horse and cart yesterday afternoon, was thrown out and dragged about, six hundred feet. He was terribly bruised and torn about the head and shoulders. The doctors express hope of his recovery.

HEADQUARTER ORDERS.

Rules Enforced-Orders Must Be Carried Out Rules Enforced—Orders Must Be Carried Out to Succeed,
In last Surday's Times a copy of a telegram appeared, sent from headquarters at San Francisco to Gordan Bros, tailors, of this city, with strict instructions to sell goods at any price, as their guropean buyer has purchased too much fall goods. The above orders are well entried out, as the fall goods are placed on sale, and orders for clothes are taken here by Gordan Bros., tailors, at extremely low prices. Rules are enforced to give good satisfaction in fit and in the making up of the clothes.

Encouraging Reports from the Morongo Mining District.

News from the Center mine and others in the Morongo mining district is very flattering for that region. The work of developing the mines is prowork of developing the mines is progressing rapidly, and regular trains are hauling ore to the station at Banning, and lumber back for construction. In the Center mine shifts are at work at the 160-foot and the eighty-work at the for-root and the egits, foot levels, and the ore is said to be quite rich. Preparation is being made to ship ore to the smelting works at Los Angeles.

RIVEPSIDE BREVITIES.

Perhaps never before has a good entertainment at the Loring been so poorly attended as was the reading of "Lucrezia Borgia" by George Riddle, on Tuesday night. It is probable that there were not fifty paid admissions at the entertainment.

The calling of Co. C. N.G.C., to the barracks at the time trouble over the Chinese was anticipated, and keeping the members on guard through the night, will cost the State $150, and the little bill has been presented.

It is reported that several growers have sold their crops of raisin grapes for $3 per ton, on the vines. The raisin crop for this section will not be large, but will be of excellent quality.

Olive A. Byrne and P. J. Stockman, executors of the extensive estate of M. Byrne, deceased, part of which is located in this and part in San Bernardino counties, have filed papers with the County Clerk, instituting a suit against Charles Kerr, J. Kerr and C. Nobli, to recover the sum of $6285, said to be due on rental of certain lands which the Messrs. Kerr leased of M. Byrne, and a part of which was subleased to Nobli.

The free labor register, opened at Mechanics' Hall, does not want for names of those seeking employment. During the first day it was opened there was a continuous stream of men, women and children going in and out of the hall, and at the close of the day 217 names.

the first day it was opened there was a continuous stream of men, women and children going in and out of the hall, and at the close of the day 217 names had been placed upon the register. It is surprising that so many unemployed should in one day even learn of the free register, and more so that so many should express a desire to secure employment as grape-pickers.

New York Stocks.

New York Stocks Step 13.—The special feature of today's market on the Stock Exchange was the remarkable rallying power of active stocks after the successive declines which were established by the bears. The sudden death of ex-Gov. Ames of Massachusetts was put into service at one to depress the leaders of the market, he having been closely identified with the Union Pacific, Western Union and General Electric comanies, and a heavy lender, upon whom large corporations frequently drew when the occasion required. A strong buying movement, however, was developed by the decline, and a jump-up was quickly made. Arother rai's was followed by another raiy, and the market closed strong.

The Labor Problem.

The late financial crisis has produced many painful consequences all over the United States. It has entailed want, privation and distress in almost every city and hamlet of the country, for it caused the closing up of many of our largest manufacturing industries, thus throwing a vast number of people out of their regular means of subsist-The working classes, of course, are the heaviest sufferers, for they have been hurriedly thrown upon the rocks, and knew not where to tim to relieve the immediate wants and imperative demands of their families They cannot beg, and to want in this land of plenty is out of the question. How to provide, therefore, for the unemployed masses is a query that is engaging the best minds of our people. Indeed, it demands our prompt and serious consideration. They are people of our own ilk, and because they ar without means and out of employment through no fault of their own, why they and their families should starve. The emergency must be promptly met, and the more fortunate among us in every localshould see it to be their bounden

This is as it should be, and we hope that our own city officials will with a complete assortment of ma come well to the front and provide rine — and other — glasses, throughich observations could be taken means to relieve cases of actual want. Los Angeles, true to her instincts, has the movements of vessels in the offing always cherished the interests of the poor, and now she will distinguish herself by the higher duty of providing for the wants of the unemployed, thus showing the dignity, grace and luster

Talk is cheap, and as long as they are not required to put up cash, just so long will their voice be heard on the woes and tribulations of the working classes. These "scions" of labor, however, it is much to be regretted, find followers, and the more's the pity, for they have imbued men's minds with wrong principles, which will surely be a detriment to their progress through Moreover, like a devil-fish, they will hold on to their prey until their victims are bled for all they are

In this connection it was painful to note the ravings of Henry George and Dr. McGlynn at Chicago the other day. They were addressing an audience of men who wanted bread, and these gentlemen met their wants to the water with the halter of opby advising the confiscation of the pressive legislation, but you canno he rich. Of course, we are not surprised at any utterance Mr. up his belongings and seek some other George may make, for he is but an erratic individual at best, but it is different with Dr. McGlynn. He is a gentleman of education, culture, and refinement, and it is surprising to find him approving such remarks. Such teachings are not in accordance with the progressive spirit of the age. Neither are they in touch with the teachings and higher formulas of the Roman Catholic Church.

Now, as to the cause and cure of this labor difficulty: History teaches us that financial and commercial complications transpire from some handsome peace offering in the shape of a bunch of fine home-grown source or other every ten or fif-teen years. It is hard to find any products like that ought not to be afraid of Chinese competition. specific reason, but the history both of England and the United States proves such to be the case. Over-trading contributes to such disasters; again concerns that have sustained heavy losses, and have bolstered themselves up with floating paper, hoping thereby to weather the storm, are another prevalent source of danger. Anticipated tariff changes, and the uncertainty of silver coinage, no doubt have had a weakening tendency on the United States, but such were not sufficient to cause the general upheaval we have experienced. The truth is, we have had our allotted period of prosperity. Business has been exceptionally good for some years, and money abundant. It is in these times that people should be provident with their money, not only living within their income, whatever that may be, but also saving some thing for the proverbial rainy day that is sure to come. We are now undoubtedly on the eve of better times. and we are glad to give them welcome, but as sure as grass grows and water runs, hard times will come again, and it is only by a process of continuous and persistent saving that our people will again avert a catastrophe that is once offensive and degrading to their American manhood.

There are no pleasanter tidings coming to us over the wires than those which tell us of the great manufactor ries and various industries which are resuming businees all over the land, and the gradual dwindling of the great unemployed.

It is proposed to have a pond of artificial ice at our Midwinter Fair on which young America can skate to its heart's content. It will be a decidedly new experience for the youth of Calitornia who have never spent a winter outside the State SECTION ONE. The first hour was given to the sub-ject "An Experiment in the Kindergar-ten," by Miss Nellie G. Oliver. Miss Oliver, among other things, advocated the use of desks in place of chairs and tables, her argument being fol-lowed by a considerable discussion, in which many showed a strong desire to keep the chairs and tables.

The second hour was occupied by Mr. Stutsman, who drilled the teachers as a class in an excellent practice in the principles of writing.

The third hour was devoted to physi-

The second hour was taken by Prof.
W. H. Housh in discussing the subject of spelling. He spoke of the importance of correct spelling in the first three grades, as a basis of further work in this line, giving thirteen excellent rules for the use of teachers in teaching how to spell. He also dwelt upon the importance of mental conception of the word in the child's mind, as well as one correct pronunciation of words.
During the third hour this section met with section 3 to hear Prof. Pierce.

In the afternoon the first hour was devoted to physical culture; the second to music by the special teacher Mrs. Juliet P. Rice.

During the practical lesson in the sen gave a practical lesson in the third hour was occupied by E. T. Pierce, principal of the Los Angeles Normal School, who gave a wise and able address on "The Distinction Between Method and Manner in Teaching—Some Principles that Govern the Former." Some of his main points are collows:

ing—Some Principles that Govern the Former." Some of his main peints are as follows:

The world is stirred now by an investigating spirit. All kinds of questions are discussed—political, scientific, esthetic, sociological, spiritual, material—whatever some men and women think—when settled, will uplift their fellows and reform mankind. At the same time powerful tendencies are at work that would, if allowed full sway, tear down all that has been gained by centuries of unward struggling. Among these counter-forces that work, some for good and some for vil, it behooves the conscientious teacher to consider his task seriously and ask himself if he is a true reformer, if his work will lead those who are taught so that they shall think right, act right and vote right.

That is just what he is doing. Pedawho are taught so that they shall think right, act right and vote right.

That is just what he is doing. Pedagogical ideas are keeping pace with ing him to pay a fine of 1100. Shorting beginning to claim for itself a science, and teaching is being elevated into a profession. Every teacher now reads up in his profession, and large pedagogical libraries are collected where but a few years ago educational works were rarely found even in the libraries of those who had taught many terms. City, county, State and national associations of teachers are national associations and the matter of the prospect of the nation and the matter of the n ilbraries of those who had taught many terms. City, county, State and national associations of teachers are held, to discuss educational questions, and this year the National Educational Association was merged into a great World's congress of Teachers.

In glancing over the questions discussed at that memorable meeting, two ideas seem to stand out prominently in the minds of educators. The first is that mere intellectual education has been weighed in the balance and found wanting; that education, the right education, should above all else construct character: that any system of education that falls to concentrate its work on character-building is a false one. The second is that we have left behind us purely experimental teaching, and have discovered fixed principles that underlie all instruction, and which should be understood and applied by all teachers.

should be understood and applied by all teachers.

Above all things there should be method in teaching. Whether we are right or wrong, it is better to have a system—to be progressing along some line to a definite end. Method in teaching is a certain or fixed way of approach to the mind of the learner, depending entirely on the order of mental development. Manner is certain devices or ways of teaching methods. Method, if a right method, never changes, and teachers teach these methods when they do not understand a principle that underlies them. They work with no especial end in view; they are experimenting, wandering; they have no conception of the mind of the pupil.

work with no especial end in view; they are experimenting, wandering; they have no conception of the mind of the pupil.

The first step in following along the line of method is observation. When observation is applied to teaching, it trains the mind to perceive with alertness what would remain unseen to the untrained. It is observation that leads us up to understanding. At this point Mr. Pierce dwelt at some length upon the observation of children, showing how it begins without conscious perception by them. They learn geology, zoology, botany, astronomy, physics through their own observation, until they are sent into a school and cooped up and deprived in a great measure of the power of observation. Formerly few men thought of observing nature to see how things really are; now observation is a general principle and applicable to all studies. A few years ago it was a great rage in America, when it went under the name of object lessons. But this was a faulty system; for observation is not simply seeing; it must lead up to some definite end, and to things that cannot be perceived by the senses. Observation that does not lead to comparison and generalization is useless.

Generalization embraces classification. Through this a meaning is put to the and statements are of no account until the individual facts are recognized from which these rules have sprung.

Lasty comes application. This is the use made of knowledge. Generalizations are empty, barren, without full application. Some men have no power to apply what they learn, and so they are helpess.

In conclusion, there is one great principle it will be well for teachers to re-member: "Learn to do by knowing; learn to do better by doing." The afternoon session was devoted to calisthenics and writing.

The first hour was occupied by physical culture, the second by music, the third by drawing.

The first hour of the afternoon session was given to a paper on "The Chemistry of Stimulants and Narcotics," by George W. Gooch of the High School. This was another valuable paper. Alcohol was treated as the type of all stimulants, and the most harmful. It is found in a greater or less degree in many drinks. In beer, I to 3 per cent.; in porter, 4 per cent.; ale, 6 to 9 per cent.; wine, 6 to 10 per cent.; brandy, 40 to 65 per cent. The tobacco habit, smoking, chewing and snuffing, was also dwelt upon, and the poisons which tobacco contains were enumerated. It affects the gastric juice, hinders digestion, and induces dyspepsia, affects the mucous membrane and lungs, and it causes the heart to beat unnaturally, and renders the highest mental powers impossible.

A PAPER'S RIGHTS.

The Shortridge Case Decided in Favor of the Editor.

He Had a Right to Publish Proceedings, Even Though the Court Ordered That They Were to Be Kept Secret,

The Supreme Court has decided the Shortridge contempt case in favor of the editor.

Some months ago when the divorce suit of Price vs. Price was called in the San Jose Superior Court, Judge W. J. Loregan decided "that all persons be xcluded from the courtroom except the officers of the court, the parties and their counsel." It was further ordered "that no public report of the testimony be made."

On the following day Charles M.
Shortridge published in the San Jose
Mercury, of which he was action, an article containing festimony in the case.
In dissecting the arguments in the case, the Supreme Court says:

"Upon an affidavit setting forth these facts, Judge Loregan made an order facts, Judge Loregan made an order commanding Shortridge to appear and show cause why he should not be adjudged guility of contempt. Mr. Shortridge disclaimed any intention to reflect upon the court or show any disrespect, and claimed that in publishing a fair and true report of the testimony and proceedings he was simply exercising a constitutional right with which the court could not interfere. Judgment was entered pronouncing him guilty of contempt of court, and ordering him to pay a fine of 100. Shortridge applied fog a writ of certiorari, which was granted, and the matter having been heard and submitted, we are now called upon to determine relies on two propositions, namely: First, that the order was authorized by sections 125 and 1209, C. P. P. and second, that the publication was an interference with judicial proceedings, which the court had the inherent power to punish as a contempt.

"The sections referred to read as follows:
"Section 195 In any action for the

to punish as a contempt.

"The sections referred to read as follows:

"Section 125. In an action for divorce, criminal conversation, seduction, or treach of promise of marriage, the court may direct the trial of any issue of fact joined therein to be private, and may exclude all persons except the officers of the court, the parties, their witnesses and counsel; provided, that in any cause the court may, in the exercise of a sound discretion, during the examination of a witness, exclude any or all other witnesses; the cause.

"Sec. 1209. The following acts or cmissions, in respect to a court of justice, or proceedings therein, are contempts of the authority of the court.

"5. Disobedience of any lawful judgment, order or process of the court.

"9. Any unlawful interference with the process or proceedings of a court.

"It may be well to note that Shortridge was not a party, a witness or an officer of the court, and that no order was made excluding the witnesses from the courtroom. The question, therefore, whether a witness, party, officer or other person over whom the court is held with closed doors, and the question whether it is a contempt for a newspaper to publish the evidence after an order has been made excluding the witnesses from the court planted its conclusion recovered upon the ground that "the case.

"The court planted its conclusion recovered to the ground that "the room during the trial, must be eliminated from the consideration of the case.

"The court planted its conclusion squarely upon the ground that 'the evident purpose of the act was that in cases of divorce . . the entire evidence should not be produced before the public,' saying: 'Of course the main purpose of this enactment was to promote public morals.'

"In this country it is a first principle that the people have the right to know what is done in their courts.

"If the Legislature had intended to prohibit the publication of proceedings in cases tried with closed doors, it would have been easy to declare its will in that regard in express terms. It has not done so, and the right claimed is not essential to the execution of the authority conferred by the section. The assumption that the object of the statute was to protect the public from the contaminating influences of prurient revelations often made in actions of divorce, seduction and criminal conversation, is unwarranted. The object of the act, is palpable. It was to secure decorum in the conduct of trials involving the relation of the sexes and to protect witnesses of refined sensibilities from the ordeal which they might otherwise have to pass through in siving testimony of a delicate or fifthy nature in ordeal which they might otherwise have to pass through in giving testimony of a delicate or filthy nature in the presence of a crowd of vulgar and curious spectators.

"Section 1032, Political Code, adds no strength to the position taken by counsel for respondent. What has been said of section 125, Code of Civil Procedure, is applicable, to section 1032, and may be summed up in the proposition that the public have the right to know and discuss all judicial proceed-ings unless such right is expressly in-terdicted by constitutional or statutory provisions, or unless the publication prohibited by order of the court is of such a nature as to obstruct or embarrass the court in its administration of the law.

"Counsel for the petitioner contend that any act of the Legislature or of the court attempting to deprive the people of the right to be informed of judicial proceedings, or to punish or discuss the same, is void. It is said that secrecy and elience in such matters are utterly repugnant to the spirit of our institutions and opposed to the constitutional declaration of right with respect to free speech and the liberty of the press.

"Did the article in question tend to embarrass, impede or obstruct the administration of justice? If it did Mr. Shortbridge is guilty of contempt regardless of the order. In determining the question whether the conduct of Mr. Shortbridge was an unlawful interference with the proceedings of the court, the order itself is a false quantity. As said by his counsel: 'If the law, under the circumstances, prohibited the publication, the order of the court was superfluous, and Mr. Shortbridge is sufficient that he has violated the law. If, on the other hand, the law did not prohibit the publication, the petitioner had the right under the law to make it, and that right could not be abridged or taken away by the order.'

"The constitution of every State in the Union guarantees to every citizen the right to freely speak, write and publish his serituants."

by the order."

"The constitution of every State in the Union guarantees to every citizen the right to freely speak, write and publish his sentiments on all subjects, and prohibits the passage of any law its restrain or abridge ine liberty of speech or of the press. What one may lawfully speak he may lawfully write and publish. The rights thus preserved by the Constitution are dear to the heart of every American, and their exercise can be complained of by the courts, in a summary proceeding, only when the publication or the speech in terferes with the proper performance of judicial duty. If there has been no contempt. In the article complained of we find nothing which could have interfered with a full cand fair investigation of the merits of the case then on trial. Ordered, that the proceedings of the court under review be hereby annulled."

ISOCIAL RECORD 1 IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

A pretty scene was presented yesterday afternoon at the grounds of Mrs. B. C. Whitney, No. 157 West Adams street. The great lawn blossomed with bright hammocks, Japanese umbrellas and snowy tables, around which gay groups gathered for cakes, cream and tea. The huge old walnut trees bore Chinese lanterns swinging from their limbs, and under numerous pepperbough booths, which were decked with sunflowers and the Union colors, confectionery, lemonade and fruit were dispensed. At intervals, couches and divans covered with comfortable rugs were placed, and here-the guests enjoyed the music, the gayety and the perfect weather. Mrs. Mellus proved a gracious hostess, assisted by the ladies of St. John's Church.

The fancy-work booth was presided over by Misses Grace Mellus and Katie Fallen, the candy booth by Miss Susie Patton, and a little stand of Cahuenga fruits was the especial department of Arthur Howard. Two of the Sundsyschool boys had charge of the lemonade booth, and did a lively business, and the ice cream booth was conducted by young girls in white, and wearing white caps. The tea booth was a picturesque affair, where tea was daintily served by Mrs. Seymour and three handmaidens from the Sunday-school, all in Japanese costumes.

The proceeds of the garden party groups gathered for cakes, cream and tea. The huge old walnut trees bore

A BENEFIT AND A LECTURE.

As Rev. A. J. Frost of San Bernar-dino is to start for Chicago next Tues-day, his friends in this city propose giving him a complimentary benefit toward defraying his expenses, and have invited him to deliver his famous lecture on "The Wonders of the Yosemite," in the First Baptist Church Monday evening.

Collateral Bank Project.

A movement is on foot in the city to establish a "collateral bank" on what is known as the Boston plan, what is known as the Boston plan, with a capital of $50,000. It is a fact not generally known, except among the unfortunates who are compelled to have dealings with them, that pawnbrokers in the city are charging as high as 10 per cent, per month for money, or the astounding rate of 120 per cent, per annum. Not only is this unheard-of interest being charged, but no attention whatever is paid to the law governing pawnbrokers, and when once an article is pledged with these shylocks the chances of the owner ever recovering the property are reduced to a minimum.

The plan, as proposed, is to organize a bank with $50,000 paid-up capital, ize a bank with $50,000 paid-up capital, ize a bank with $50,000 paragnal proposed. ize a bank with $50,000 paid-up capital, and to make, leans on personal property at 1 per cent. per month. Every thirty days unredeemed pledges will be advertised and sold, and, after paying the amount of the loan and interest, the surplus will be returned to the owner of the article. The men behind the movement do not pretend to be philanthropists in any sense of the word. They are business men who say they are satisfied with a fair return on their investment, and who think 1 per cent. per month is sufficient.

Galer Placer Diggings.

A gentleman who arrived from the Galer placer mines last night says some rich finds are being made there. These diggings are about forty miles northeast of Mojave, and there are now about twenty-five men working there. There are springs at Galer, where water can be had for 400 cr 500 men for camp purposes, but there is no water for washing out gold, and dry washers are used. Reed & Groves, who have the best claim in the camp, a day or two ago struck a nugget weighing something over four pounds, and valued at $1000. Other large nuggets have also been found on this claim. Miners are said to be taking out from $4$ to $5$ per day.

The building occupied by the Los Angeles Bex Company as a factory, located between Third and Fourth streets, on Los Angeles, was burned to the ground last night at 10 o'clock.

The structure took fire from a heap of shavings in a rear room, and before the blaze was discovered the interior was badly glutted. The fire department got two streams of water running a few moments later, but found it impossible to save the building.

The heat from the blaze soon caused stacks of lumber in the adjoining yard to catch fire, and considerable of this material was destroyed.

The loss amounted to about $3000, being partially covered by insurance.

RAILROAD RECORD. THE $4 CUT RATE.

Cause of the Santa Fe Reduction.

A. Charge That the S.P. Violated Its Agreement.

The Free Side Trip to San Francisco.

What Passenger Agent Thompson Says-The Southern Pacific Will Honor No Santa Fe Tickets-Rail-

The Associated Press dispatch from Chicago published in The Times yester-day morning to the effect that the Santa Fe had made a $4 cut in the through rate East, and threatened another cut in case the Southern Pacific met the reduced rate, caused quite a flurry among the local representatives of the various roads having offices in this city. The general opinion was that an amicable adjustment of the trouble would be made, as the financial condition of the railroads was such that they could not stand a rate war at this time; a few, however, affected to believe that it was an entering wedge, and that much lower rates would prevail before the end was reached.

The cut rate went into effect at the rate East, and threatened another much lower rates would prevail before the end was reached.

The cut rate went into effect at the Santa Fe offices in this city yesterday morning, and is made on first-class tickets, east-bound, either single or round trip, the round-trip rate over the Santa Fe to Chicago now being 376, and the single-trip rate $47.75, which, unless it is met, gives that line a very decided advantage.

Passenger Agent Thompson of the Santa Fe was seen by a Times reporter yesterday afternoon, and stated that, while his company did not wish to precipitate a rate war, it was compelled to look out for its own interests, which made the cut necessary. For several years there has been an agreement between the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific, by which the latter company charged $1 additional on the Eastern rate by way of San Francisco. The Southern Pacific, without notice to the Santa Fe, took off this $4, giving the side trip free, and claimed the privilege of doing so in any special cases that it saw fit, which, of course, amounted to a $4 cut, and it was this cut that had been met by the Santa Fe as a violation of the agreeamounted to a $4 cut, and it was this cut that had been met by the Santa Fe. This action was regarded by the Santa Fe as a violation of the agreement between the two companies, and they had taken steps for their protection as stated. Mr. Thompson stated that he had been notified by the Southern Facific people that no tickets via Portland, Sacramento or El Paso sold by the Santa Fe would be recognized over their lines, and that in consequence no more tickets would be sold until the differences were adjusted.

At the Southern Pacific offices nothing was known beyond the fact that friendly relations with the Santa Fe were at least temporarily suspended, and that formal notice had been served on them to that effect, receipt of which notice had been acknowledged by Mr. Thompson. The cut had not been met last evening, and it was stated that it was not known whether it would be. The Southern Pacific people deny that there has been any violation of any agreement with the Santa Fe. They say that they have a perfect right to send their passengers either by way of

there has been any violation of any agreement with the Santa Fe. They say that they have a perfect right to send their passengers either by way of Lathrop and Sacramento or San Francisco, as they see fit. The same thing is done by the Santa Fe, on a larger scale, and their right to do so has never been questioned. It will probably be known today whether the Southern Pacific intends to meet the cut or not. If it does, the Santa Fe will probably fall another $4.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—(By the Associated Press.) Col. C. F. Crocker returned here today after an extended trip through the State. The $89,293,090 of 5 per cent. bonds, authorized by the Southern Pacific Company yesterday, will not be issued, he said, except as required to take up the former bonds and to construct new lines of railway.

Col. Crocker explained that the new mortgage will cover only the lines of the Southern Pacific Railway Company south of San Francisco. and that a great portion of the first cutlay will be to complete the system of lines in the San Joaquin Valley; not only those at present existing, but also con-

He denied that the Southern Pacific contemplates giving encouragement to the proposed line from Fresno to Monterey. He said that the new lines projected embraced among others, two connections, the Santa Clara and Salinas valleys, and the San Joaquin, besides others in Southern California. One of the lines in the San Joaquin Valley will extend from Hanford to Wade station, where it will strike the present line running into Bakersfield. Another, it was learned, from a different source, would probably run from Merced to Sanger, closing up the gap and making a third line through the valley.` MUST PAY FARE.

The Southern Pacific is evidently determined to enforce the collection of termined to enforce the collection of fares in the city of Oakland, as will be seen by the following from the San Francisco Call of Tuesday:

"The days of free rides upon the cars of the Southern Pacific road in Oakland' are numbered, so the Southern Pacific people say. The crowds of workingmen going to and from their daily toil, the women with their market baskets, and the various other classes who have been the various other classes who have been wont to ride at will upon the narrow wont to ride at will upon the narrow and broad-gauge trains in that city, will henceforth be required to pay their way, says the monopoly. The edict has gone forth, and in a short time the cars now running over the lines of the Southern Pacific Company in the towns just across the bay will assume a different appearance from that which they bear at present.

"On each side of the cars a gate will be attached for the purpose of shutting out the non-paying citizens, and no-body will be permitted to get on the cars unless he or she has a ticket.

"For this purpose ticket offices will be established at each of the stopping places, where passengers may procure the necessary pieces of pasteboard admitting them to the cars of the company.

mitting them to the cars of the company.

"The present system of running trains will be stopped, and the old order resumed. That is to say, Broadway and some of the other crossings which are not recognized as stopping-places by some of the trains on the present schedule, will be as they formerly were on the old time-card.

"Although all the details of the new order of affairs have not yet been decided upon, it is probable that a uniform rate of 5 cents will be charged for passage.

Passage.
"It is claimed by the Southern Pacific attorneys that the law will in no way be violated by the company in the new move for the following reason:

"When the company secured its charter, it was specifically stated that fare shall not be charged for carrying passengers from one point to another within the city limits. At that time, it is claimed, East Oakland was not within the limits of Oakland, but was a separate corporation."

TO LOS ANGELES. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—(By the Associated Press.) The San Francisco and Atlantic Railway Company has placed on necord a mortgage for $20,000,000 in San Josquin county to the Title Insurance and Trust Company of the city of San Francisco. This is to cover all the property of the railway company, its main line as well as its branches. It will be followed in due time, so says Frederick Homer, chief mover in the enterprise, by the making of a record in all o'her counties through which the line will pass.

Mr. Homer said this means that the road, which will run from San Francisco to Los Angeles, crossing the Atlantic and Pacific near Kramer, will be built.

HUNTINGTON INTERVIEWED. NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—(By the Associated Press.) C. P. Huntington said today, in response to inquiries concerning the Southern Pacific Railroad Com-loday, in response to inquiries concerning the Southern Pacific Railroad Company's new mortgage:

"The new mortgage will be the first liten on all of the company's property, including the lines of the company built during the past two years, over one hundred miles on which there is no lien, and the new mortgage will be the first lien on this mileage. The bulance of the new bonds will be issued gradually and only as the construction of new mileage requires. This is in the line of the general policy adopted by almost all of the large companies at the present day—to merge all mortgage liens to a unified consolidated loan, which shall cover the whole system.

"Of course it was a mistake to suppose—as the Western dispatches indicate—that there is any hostile feeling on our part against the Atchison, or any other road, or that such a feeling has anyhing to do with the authorization of this mortgage. Our relations with the Atchison are very friendly."

The Chicago roads refuse to join the Texas roads in the enforcement of the anti-scalpers' law in that State.

The Southern Pacific payear is expected to start out today or tomorroy. It is believed that only July salaries will be paid, which will leave still another month and a half pay behind.

The Southern Pacific Company has agreed to transport free from all points on its Pacific system articles for exhibition at the California Midwinter International Exposition and back to the original shipping point at half rates. For overland passage to San Francisco and return it will join its Eastern connections in making one first-class fare for the round trip.

A new rule has been adopted by the Pullman Company in San Francisco, which requires all railroad agents to bring the tickets with them when they call at the sleeping-car office to secure beeths. The custom has heretofore been in practice to allow agents to hold berths for two days simply upon application, and the Pullman officials say that the method worked to the injury of the traveling public in several ways. It is said that agents would secure berths for which they had no definite assurance that they would have passengers, and if the persons whose patronage they were seeking to obtain should go to another road to purchase their tickets the first road would simply turn over the berths to its more successful competitor. In this manner it frequently happened that the public, because the berths would be held by railroad agents. Hence the change. The new rule also provides that the berth tickets are good for ten days from date of issuance.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

WEATHER AND CROPS. The Regular Weekly Bulletin for Southern California.

Following is the weather and crop bulletin of the Southern California weather service for the week ending September 11: The weather during the week was unseasonably cool; the days were fairly warm, but the nights were decidedly chilly, which tended to reduce the temperature averages below the normals for this period of the year. The daily deficiency in temperature at Los Ange-les ranged from one degree, for the least, to seven for the highest, the avleast, to seven for the highest, the average being five degrees; the deficiency was less at San Diego, the average being three daily during the week. The weather was clear in the interior, but in the coast districts some cloudy mornings occurred in the fore and latter parts of the week. Fruit-drying progressed favorably on the whole as the days were clear, dry, and warri. Continuous warm, dry, weather is particularly needed at this period on account of raisin-making. The rains in the mountains last week appreciably increased the supply of water for irrigating purposes. Detailed reports follow:

Santa Barbara: Harvesting of beans has fairly begun. Walnuts are ripening, but the crop is not large. Daily shipments of lemons are being made.
San Luis Obispo: Southerly winds prevail, which indicates early rains.
The bean harvest is over, and the crop is good.

Ventura county—Bardsdale: Corn has matured, and the crop is heavy. Blackeye beans are being threshed, and yield well. The potato yield is good, and is being shipped. The prune crop is good. The nights were cool and the days warm.

Los Angeles county—Lancaster: The weather was cool; nearly approached the frost point. Grain shipments continue large. The Palms: The weather was cool; more so than at the same period last year. The second crop of figs is being gathered. Pasadena: The weather was miserably cool for the season; warmer weather is desired for the rest of the month for raisin, prune and peach-drying. Walnuts are a big crop. Duarte: The past week was favorable for fruit-drying. The prune seuson is at its height, but late peaches are not yet ripe. A cold wave reached here on the 7th. Covina: The weather was fine. Oranges are doing nicely. Funigating for black scale is being talked about. Pomona: The unuage, as driers had warning in time to stack their trays. The weather was cool, but favorable for drying, because of continuous sun. Prunes are coming to the dryers rapidly. The grape crop is large, and of fine quality. The olive crop will amount to nearly nothing in this valley. Compton: Farmers are busy picking apples.

San Bernardino county—Chino: Fall weather has come on unusually early. Cool nights, with warm, dry days are ripening sugar-beets rapidly. Ontario: Seventy tons of fruit was put up by the cannery. Redlands: The work of gathering the big crop of raisins and wine grapes on the Stillman ranch has begun. warm.
Los Angeles county—Lancaster: The wine grapes on the Stillman ranch has begun.

Riverside county—Beaumont: Fruit-growers are drying their crops. Winchester: Grain turned out better than expected. Elsinore: The weather was clear and warm.
Orange county—Whittier: A large smount of peaches, grapes, apples and tomatoes are used by the cannery. Orange: Grape-picking is in progress; the yield is good, and the quality first-class. Fullerton: The wainut crop will be about eighteen carloads. Anaheim: No change occurred in the weather from the previous week, except the nights were cooler. Sugar-beets continue to be sent to the factory in large quantities.

tinue to be sent to the factory in large quantities.

San Diego county—Escondido: Grapes are being cut and sent to Eastern points in refrigerator cars. San Marcos: Corn will be a good crop. San Diego city: Grape-picking began Monday on the large ranches in the Cajon. The weather has been good for curing fruit the past week. Fruit-drying continues, but it is almost finished, except on late peaches. Grain continues to arrive in large lots. peaches.

Horse and Phaeton Recovered.

A horse and phaeton, taken from the poscession of Dr. J. C. Lindsay at Commercial and Alameda streets some three weeks ago, was discovered yeaterday. One of the men connected with the Fashion stable on First street was at one of the railway stations when he chanced to see a printed description of the missing property, which he immediately recognized as a rig which was then at his stable.

The case, as already outlined, is on for an injunction to restrain the defendants from pursuing further work bn a certain tunnel which they are at present digging near the stream of water belonging to and controlled by the plaintiff company.

In the argument, counsel for the pluintiff contended that the tunnel, if allowed to run into the cauyon any further, would diminish the supply of further, would diminish the supply of water owned by the San Antonio Company, to the latter's loss and injury. The stream referred to flowed down the canyon and into a reservoir built for the collection of water, from which a portion of the residents of Pomona and Ontario were supplied.

The defendants, several months ago, began the digging of a tunnel close beside the source of supply of the plaintiffs. The canyon bed, being of gravtiffs. The canyon bed, being of grav-elly formation, naturally would furnish but little more resistance to percolating water than a selve, hence the tunnel would draw from and diminish the supply of the plaintiff's water.

The case will be continued today.

DI-LUSIVE FANCIES.

Fannie Smith, an invalid, who has lived at the County Hospital for nearly three years past, was brought before Judge Shaw and Drs. Ainsworth and Wernigk yesterday, for examination as to her sanity.

to her sanity.

The woman was a curious sight to behold, having on an enormous white sunbonnet, and wearing heavy bandages about her head. Over her face she had also rabbed some sort of a powder, in order to cure imaginary pains. When she took off the bonnet she appeared like the "wild woman of the woods," with her hair all disheveled, and bony features and proruding teeth. However, she talked along in a rational manner and answered questions with but little hesitancy.

along in a rational manner and answered questions with but little hesitancy.

The nurse in attendance at the hospital testified that the invalid acted at times in a very violent manner. She was constantly threatening to do injury to all of the immates of the hospital, and would frequently stand still in one place for hours at a time, insisting that she could not move, and that if she did so she would die.

During the hearing of the nurse's testimony the patient frequently interrupted her with exclamations of surprise, declaring that it was all a lie, and that she was perfectly safe.

Dr. Hogan, the county physician, stated that the woman had been in the same condition ever since he took charge of the hospital, some six months ago. He thought that she was dangerous in a way, and that she might do harm to the other inmates during her irrational fits. She kept her head bandaged up always, he said, although there was nothing whatever the matter with it. One of her delusions was that the physicians were anxious for her to die, so that they could get possession of a certain bone in her body.

After listening to the story told by the hospital attendants, Judge Shaw ordered that the woman be committed to the asylum at Highland.

was present at yesterday's meeting of the Fire Commission.

A communication from the City Clerk stated that the tax levy for fire department purposes had been fixed at 15.90 cents on each $100, which would amount in round numbers to $75,000. Filed.

The communication also stated that the Council had ordered the fire plug at Workman and Hoff streets to be moved, so as to take it out of the roadway. Referred to the chief.

mall and Brooklyn avenues, as referred from the Council, was referred to the chief.

The lease with J. Barringer for engine-house No. 8 was referred back to the Council, and Commissioners Kuhrts and McLain were appointed as a committee to see about making certain changes in the lease.

The chief reported that W. R. Price, tillerman of the hook and ladder company, was injured in the discharge of his duty, but through carelessness in leaving chairs around.

It being stated that Price was not much to blame, it was ordered that $25 from the fireman's relief fund be given to him.

The chief also reported that Joe Sepulveda, having paid his fine, would be reinstated on the 15th inst. Filed.

The two drivers of engine company No. 3 had had a misunderstanding, for which the chief had reprimanded them. Filed.

The chief also reported that he could see no reason why Dye Patterson should be transferred, and he therefore recommended that he remain where he now is. Filed.

M. C. Lynch, engineer of engine company No. 3, presented his resignation, with thanks for favors, and the same was accepted.

A communication from S. B. Arguello stated that D. Patterson, who was employed at the Plaze engine-house, was not a proper person to occupy said position, and was interfering with the family affairs of the complainant, to as to bring about a separation between himself and wife, without any just or reasonable cause therefor.

One of the commissioners stated that Patterson was doing his duty as a fireman, and it would therefore-seem that the commission had no jurisdiction in the matter. The communication was therefore ordered filed.

On motion, F. Bisbee and G. M. Smith, callmen of engine companies Nos. 1 and 5, were dropped from the roll.

The Electric Railroad Bridge Nearing Completion—Chamber of Commerce.

Work on the new electric railway bridge is nearing completion, and men were yesterday engaged in laying the rails to connect with the track already down on the east side of the river. It was stated last evening that the company would be running its cars over the East Side division before the close of the coming week.

W. W. Stockwell arrived on the belated overland train Tuesday night, from Chicago, and his talk yesterday was of nothing but the "Breezy City" and the many wonderful sights he had just returned from witnessing.

The meetings of the local Chamber of Commerce are not being attended with the faithfulness that would seem consistent with the interest due the public welfare. A small handful of voters are regularly in their places, but it would be of vart help and encouragement to those who have the prosperity of the community so much at heart if more of the citizens would turn out and assist in the attempts being made to secure some much-needed improvements for the First Ward.

der trial, and who was afterward arrested and convicted of beating his wife, for which offense he was fined $60, has again been heard from. Shortly after getting out of his wife-beating schape, the fellow filed papers for divorce, and almost immediately left the city. It appears that he has transferred himself to San Francisco, where he has opened a law office. The following from the San Francisco Wave of September 3, which was published with a very flattering portrait of the aforesaid Hayford, will be interesting reading in this city and Santa Ana, where he is best known:

"One of the most interesting cases in the annals of the Southern metropolis was that of the State against Henry Bentley, accused of poisoning his wife. The lady in question, a Mrs. Nordholdt, was a somewhat mature and exceedingly wealthy person, whom, it appeared from the evidence, Bentley had married for financial rather than amatory reasons. Indeed, he was inconsiderate enough to discuss future matrimonial depredations with sundry individuals of his acquaintance, insinuating a desire to get rid of his bargain, provided he might retain her cash. The prosecution gathered against him a strong body of testimony, and his conviction seemed a certainty.

"Fortunately for himself, however, his case was in the hands of a clever attorney, George Hayford, one of the ablest lawyers of the Southern bar, who, by the exercise of an unusual degree of skill and diplomacy, disproved the evidence, and secured his client's acquittal. Indeed, the effort and its reward were regarded as a legal tour de force in Los Angeles. For his fee for Los Angeles. For his fee for his brilliant service, that he presented him, in eddition, with a gold watch jeweled with diamonds.

"Some time ago Mr. Hayford concluded that San Francisco offered for an able lawyer a wider field than Los Angeles. The requirements of his practice kept him there until recently, however, when circumstances enabled him to retire and commence work here. Located on the fifth floor of the Mills buildin

What is a Silk Convention? It is a Silk Convention.

A Silk Convention is a Silk Convention. When you see it then your wondering will turn to exclamations of delight. It will afford satisfaction to thousands, and no one should miss it. It is to enlighten the public. To instruct and to amuse. It will be free to all to come and see, and we expect the populace to turn out. The Dress Goods Department is in the field to echipse. It is stocked with the choicest goods we ever carried, and the prices are strictly at moderate figures. We want to show the ladies of Los Angeles that they can dress elegantly with economy. Richly with good taste. Fine silks with cheapness, Elegant patterns with neatness. The Dress Goods Department today is not the Dress Goods Department of a year ago. It has been vastly improved. It has been turned upside down and inside out. High priced extreme novelties have no place here. Rich goods at moderate figures have taken their places. The latest phase in colorings have taken the place of loud foreign effects. Rich shadings in heliotropes and greens, new shadings in tans and browns. The reds run to majentas. The plums to heliotrope. Woolen goods take on the glossy effect in silks in their rich finishings, and their beauties become more pronounced when combined with velvet or silk. Both silks and velvets are good, and goodness knows which is the goodest. They are a delight to the eye and a relief to the pocket-book. They never were so cheap for beautiful goods. The Dress Goods Department invites trade upon this basis. Upon a basis of square dealing, upon a basis of good treatment. One word about the big Cloak Department—bigger than ever, busier than ever. The style runs to big sleeves, to big collars, to big skirts. As the Dutchman says they are wide out. The reason for big sales is found in prices far below cloak houses. One price, good treatment, big stock, new garments, and the trade grows, grows, grows, Is it any wonder that each season clears out all old garments and the beginning of the new brings a new line of styles? This is progressive cloak selling. Every garment is new in Muslin Underwear. Sales quadrupling. We sell Royal Worcester Corsets, and have expert fitters for the Royal Worcester. Trade more than doubling. We grow, and grow, and grow. Remember the Silk Convention in a day or two.

PASADENA.

Side Lights on the Proposed Electric Road Franchises.

n't Throw Away Valuable Rights-Personal Notes of Interest-Street Improvements-Batch of Brevities.

That the building of an electric street railroad between Pasadena and Los Angeles will prove highly beneto the public interests of admits of no dispute, but there is no need of giving away too many valuable rights in the shape of fran-chises to obtain such result. Some weeks ago, at the instance of the Board of City Trustees, City Attorney Arthur drew up a franchise granting the rights to construct and operate such a road on certain streets of the town and under certain conditions. It was a good franchise, for the reason that well protected the city's interests, it well protected the city's interests, while it embraced nothing which any company meaning business could reasonably object to. Since then, however, the franchise as drawn up by Mr. Arthur has been attacked tooth and nall by the Consolidated Electric Railway Company's attorney, James McLachlan, Esq., various sections of that company's attorney, James McLachlan, Esq., various sections of the franchise have been altered in important particulars. Certain paragraphs have been stricken out, while in other places' new paragraphs have portant particulars. Certain paragraphs have been stricken out, while in other places new paragraphs have been introduced—all at Mr. McLachlan's suggestion—until the whole "blasted business" has begun to take on the aspect of a farce, so far as the city's side of the case goes. If the franchise should pars into the hands of the Consolidated Electric Company with all the changes introduced by Mr. McLachlan on Monday and at previous Council meetings, it will simply give that company an option to extend its line to Pasadena within the next two years, or not to extend it—just as it pleases. Even the matter of the forfeiture of a $5000 bond wouldn't cut much of a figure—at the end of two years. The Terminal and Santa Fe Consolidated Electric Company treble that amount to keep out of Pasadena, and in this connection it is interesting to recall the fact that when the Terto recall the fact that when the Ter-minal officials appeared before the City Council they never manifested to recall the fact that when the Terminal officials appeared before the City Council they never manifested the slightest alarm concerning the electric road's proposed inroads into this territory. The fact might be mentioned also that as things now stand the electric road cappany, which is practically in control of the Los Angeles cable road, gets 10 cents from every Pasadena passenger to Los Angeles for the round trip from the station to the center of town. The distance being considered, this amount nets a larger profit than would a round trip rate of 25 cents from Pasadena, all of which leads the average citizen to wonder why the electric road wants to extend its line to Pasadena. Fortunately, the terms of the proposed franchise have only been informally agreed upon. Pasadena will be glad to welcome an electric road, and will give it generous support, but Pasadena will never sanction the giving away of valuable rights without assurance that they will be received and acted upon in good faith, nor will it do for the city to throw the control of all the principal streets of town into the hands of one corporation for a period of two years to the exclusion of everybody else. Some changes proposed by Mr. McLachlan in the wording of the franchise are of serious importance, and should not be passed over lightly. The amount of the bond should not be lowered a whit below $10,000, a reduction of fare should not be limited to the public school children, but should apply to the attendants at all of the schools, and the terms of the franchise should be such that in case the road is not completed within the prescribed time the franchise over the entire line will be forested, and not simply that applying to such portions of the road as the company may choose not to complete. Pasadena has some valuable street rights, which in coming years complete. Pasadena has some valuable street rights, which in coming years will prove highly profitable to the companies operating under them. The Council should value these rights accordingly, and dictate in what manner they shall be disposed of. If the applicants for such rights are not then satisfied, it would be better to wait for some one else, rather than make a present of them on whatever terms said applicants may dictate.

The annual meeting of the Pasadena. Christian Endeavor Union was held Tuesday evening, in the Christian Church. It was largely attended. The different societies forming the union reported present membership. The treasurer's report for the past year was read. The following were elected unanimously to serve as officers for the coming year: Samuel M. Allen, president; Prof. A. L. Hamilton, vice-president; Miss Cora Underwood, secretary; Aaron Roberts, treasurer.

Dr. J. T. Price, president of the Los Angeles County Union, was present, and gave details of the convention to be held in Los Angeles, October 7, urging all Christian Endeavors to plan to attend. Miss Martha Stewart led the earnest devotional service that followed. The next meeting of the union will be held Tuesday, October 10, in the Presbyterian Church.

ENFORCE THE IMPROVEMENT ACT. The annual meeting of the Pasadena

ENFORCE THE IMPROVEMENT ACT. At the next meeting of the City Council an ordinance will probably be passed, which will provide for putting the provisions of the Street Improvement Act, which relates to the proper care of trees and hedges along the public thoroughfares, into active effect. A drive about town will convince any one of the pressing need of carrying out such work. In many places the sidewalks are almost impassable on account of overhanging branches of trees and of evergreen hedges. The operations of the new law will be awaited with interest, and all improvements acruing therefrom will be halled with joy by everyone, except the nine citizens who voted against its adoption.

A Firm of Saloon-keepers Again

Janson & Silvers, proprietors of the Peerless saloon, in San Bernardino, and lessees of Harlem Springs, have been cited to appear before the county su-pervisors, on September 15, and show cause why their saloon license should not be revoked. They are charged by County License Collector Richardson with again violating the county liquor license ordinance, by selling liquor without a license at Harlem Springs, the supposition being that, if they vio-late the ordinance in one way at the Springs, they are liable to violate it in some way in the city, and are at any rate unfit persons to be licensed to engage in the liquor business. This same firm was brought before the board upon the same charge in July, upon evidence gathered in June, and, rather than stand trial, the retail license of $120 stand trial, the retail license of $120 was paid for the business done at the Springs. The members of the firm appealed to the members of the Board of Supervisors, with tears in their eyes, begging them not to revoke their license, stating that the bad name of the springs was handed down to them by their predecessors, and promising, personally and through their attorney, that they would never violate the law, either at Harlem Springs or at the Peerless saloon in this city, stating that their licenses might be withheld without protest if they did. ### PUBLIC HEALTH.

Business Transacted at the Regular Board Meeting.

ment of a Milk and Meat Inspect mended—A Vigorous Kick Against the Packing-

The Board of Health met yester-

Ing present.

The matter of the appointment of a meat and milk inspector coming up. Dr. Gillingham moved that an ordinance be drafted for presentation to the Council providing for the appointthe Council providing for the appointment of such an officer, also that Charles Hayden be recommended for the position. He said that Mr. Hayden had lived in the city for some thirty years, and was, he believed, thoroughly competent for the position. Dr. Hitchcock, in seconding the motion, said that he was in favor of such proceeding at present, but hoped that eventually an animal inspector would be also appointed.

Dr. Kurtz said that he believed that for the position there should be appointed a veterinary surgeon, who would be competent to make microscopic examinations. He, therefore, placed in nomination the name of J. C. Blackington, the veterinary surgeon.

There was no second to the latter.

C. Blackington, the veterinary surgeon.

There was no second to the latter nomination, and Dr. Gillingham's motion being voted on was carried.

The communication from George Brereton, as heretofore published, advocating that California instead of India be put forward as a resort for invalids from England, and also that the Nicaragua Canal be built, was then read.

The Health Officer reported that he had examined Mrs. S. A. Ulrich for her qualifications as a midwife, and that she had proven satisfactory. A license certificate was accordingly ordered issued to her.

qualifications as a midwife, and that she had proven satisfactory. A license certificate was accordingly ordered issued to her.

A Mr. Stern appeared before the board and said he wished to register a kick against the Cudahy Packing Company. In the first place there was the incessant squealing of the pigs, which was kept up day and night. Besides this, there was a terrible stench about the place when the rendering chamber was blown off, and also the stench from the live hogs.

Health Officer Powers stated that the establishment was so arranged that a large portion of the solid matter in the refuse from the place was used for fertilizer, and not permitted to go into the sewer. There was, however, a large amount of filth which was turned away. This was allowed to run into the river and did not go into the sewer.

Dr. McGowan took occasion to remark that he had endeavored to have a tract of land in the sandy district near Seventh street and the river secured for the purpose of confining all such slaughter-houses in that neighborhood. The Council had, however, not seen fit to act on his suggestion, and the packing-house had been erected where it now is. Under the cfreumstances he did not see how the board could afford any remedy in the matter.

Dr. Kurtz said that as far as he was excepted by believed the nextery of the circumstances he did not see how the board could afford any remedy in the matter.

Dr. Kurtz said that as far as he was concerned he believed the matter of the squealing should be referred to the Board of Police Commissioners.

"Don't, for pity's 'sake, refer anything more to the Police Commission," said the Mayor. "We have all be can attend to in that body now."

The discussion here turned on to the pollution of the river, and, after some further talk, it was ordered that the Health Officer be instructed to present a specific report on the matter at the next meeting of the board, and in the meantime to have everything done that could be to abate any nuisance about the premises in question.

Mr. Stern said that he was not making any complaint about what was being turned into the river. He was complaining of the intolerable stench coming from the rendering tank when the same was blown off.

The Health Officer reported that there were still a number of physicians who had not registered as required by ordinance.

Dr. Kurtz moved that those who had not registered be given notice to do so within ten days, and that if they failed to register at the expiration of that time they be prosecuted. Carried.

Another carload of fruit for the World's Fair is being made up, and will be sent on soon. Among other things a lot of large pumpkins will swell the display.

The Southern California exhibit at the World's Fair is doing its work, and the effect begins to be realized. Within the past few days three parties have arrived in the city who are ascertained to have come as the direct result of that advertisement.

Personal Mention.
The Santa Barbara Military Band gave a testimonial concert to its leader, Prof. J. E. Green, on the San Marcos lawn, Monday evening. The band gave lawn, Monday evening. The band gave a long and well-rendered programme, at the close of which the crowd surged in and packed the parlors of the hotel, where Mayor Gaty, after making a neat presentation speech, handed Prof. Green a sack with $100 in gold, as an expression of the appreciation in which his efforts to keep up a good musical organization are held in Santa Barbara. The gift was from the citizens. Prof. Green made a telling response, and the band gave the final piece, "Auld Lang Syne." Prof. Green leaves for his old home in Ontario, Canada, on Tuesday.

Despite hard times building improvement is going steadily on. Mrs. James's residence in the Fifth Ward is well under way. The brick store adjoining the Orena Block on State street has its foundations laid and ready for the superstructure, and painters, carpenters and plasterers report plenty of work. Quite a number of improvements are being made in Summerland, which, since its internal dissensions have been quieted, is livening up considerably.

The Chinese colony here is being reinforced by poorly-clothed, scared-looking laborers from the southern part of the State. One laundryman who has resided here for fifteen years, expressed himself somewhat forcibly on the question. He said: "Down San Berdine people dam fools; up here no likem Chinaboy go away. People here know good things. Me no go away; me legistered." The State Board of Equalization has, as usual, raised the assessment of this county. Auditor Johnston has just received the rate, which is :576 on $100 of assessed valuation, and is apportioned with .374 to the general fund, .179 to the school fund, and .13 to the sinking fund. This is for the fiscal year 1893. Music-lovers of this city are quite enthusiastic over the appearance of Miss Neally Stevens at the theater Saturday night. ### Testimonials:

The following testimonials speak for themselves;

Will Prevent Disease. Will Prevent Disease.

PASADENA, March 18, 1890.

Morris Poultry Cure Co. DEAR SIRS:—We have thoroughly tested your wonderulf cure for poultry, and find it will do all that you claim. It will not only prevent disease of all kinds and keep fowls healthy, but will cure swelled head, roup and scaly legs. When we received the first order of your Poultry Powders we had several fowls very sick in our coops. We administered your cure, and in a few days they were all well.

Very respectfully.

BIEDEBACH BROS., Dealers in Fish and Poultry.

Morris Ponltry Cure Co. Dran Sins:—I am glad to testify to the merits of your deservedly popular Poultry Cure. One box of the remedy, given according to your printed directions, saved the lives of a dozen turkeys (six weeks old) when they were very near unto death with "sore head." They are now in prime condition for Tanksgiving.

Very truly,

All Got Better at Once.

Morris Poultry Cure Co. DEAR SIRS:—Allow me to congratulate you on your wonderful remedy. My poultry all got better at once. I have not one sick chicken out of the hirty I had when I sent to you for it; they all are cured. I wish you would send me abpound can and oblige.

Yours respectfully.

FRANK N. CUNNINGHAM.

The Paper Better Than Ever!

A department particularly adapted to the peculiar character of our Southern Califor nia agricultural and horticultural interests, carefully prepared by a practical and edu cated farmer, will, in the future, be a valuable feature of the Saturday Times and weekly Mirkon, and will also appear in the daily issue each Saturday. A Southern California News Page is also published weekly. These features, with the variety, reliability and general excellence of the other departments, render this paper infinitely superior as a general family newspaper to any weekly publication in the Southwest.

bodily disfigurement standing hitched to a tree at Second and San Pedro streets yesterday aroused the sympathy of humane people, who thought the animal was not being cared for.

On investigation it was found, however, that the horse was in the charge of the poundmaster. On account of its apparent diseased condition it had been kept at this place so as not to run any risk of communicating any disease to the other animals in the pound.

The horse was found two or three days ago wandering on the streets, where it had evidently been turned loose by some person who thought that the empirest way to get rid of it.

New Six-team League Organized in the North.

All of the Players of the Late California League to Be Provided for, With Clever Amateurs to Com-

The northern part of the State is de-termined to have baseball in some shape, even if a first-class professional league cannot be maintained. The Sar Francisco Examiner of Tuesday gives the following details of the plan as agreed upon:

The new six-team baseball league will be organized in this city today at a meeting to be held at 11 o'clock in J. B. Gilbert's office. San Francisco will have two teams, and so there will be two new local magnates at the meeting—J. T. Stafford, manager of the Scott & Gilberts, and Paul Keller, man-ager of the Allens. Other managers will be J. A. Cowan of the Petalumas, and J. W. Woodward of the Santa Rosas.

These four teams are to be repre-These four teams are to be represented because the new "California Players' League" is to absorb the amateur "Central League." Oakland will also join, and the sixth team will probably be from either Sacramento or San Jose, though Stockton and Vallejo are both clamoring for the place. Men from all of these cities will take part in the meeting, and it is possible that an eight-team league will be the result, though that suggestion is not locally favored.

in the meeting, and it is possible that an eight-team league will be the result, though that suggestion is not locally favored.

The chairman of the meeting will be W. J. Hunter of the San Francisco and North Pacific Railroad, and he is named for president of the league. Although the players of the recent California League are all to remain, the old teams will be broken up and the players distributed among the six organizations, in which the best of the amateur players are to be retained.

Fred Carroll will captain the Allens and will play an infield position. He is picking out his men from the old nine, which was composed as follows: Devereaux, pitcher; Sullivan, catcher; Crowley, first base; Mertes, second base: Van Haltren, third base? Donovan, right-field; Monaghan, short-stop; Kelly, left-field; Phlipot, center-field. He will take in several of his old associates, with Balsz or Knell in the box with Devereaux. Sillivan will be a change catcher.

The Scott & Gilberts are organized with the exception of a shortstop, and these are the men chosen: Tom Powers, captain and third base; McGreevy and Jackson, pitchers; "Pop" Swett, first base; Speer and McCarthy, catchers; Smith, third base; Pequigney, second base: Downey, Sweeney and the extra-catcher and pitcher in the field. The Oaklands will retain Earl as captain, and Horner in the box, and other players are: "Hunky" Hines, centerfield; Unhappy McGucken, left field: Cody, catcher; Collopy, third base; Suitz of Santa Rosa, shortstop; Donovan and Van Haltren of the old Allens and Smith of the Scott & Gilberts.

Santa Rosa will have one of the strongest pitchers in the league in Johnson, who was wanted in the San Francisco team all the early part of the summer. Stanley, a thoroughly good catcher, will support him. Young Levy, a brother of the celebrated Reuben, will cover first base, with Riley on second and "Angel" Hulen at third. The fielders will be Dextraze, McCarthy and McIntyre, and Maguire may be put on as shortstop to strengthen the batting order.

Cowan'

Cowan's team at Petaluma was heretofore made up as follows: Green, catcher: Nolan, pitcher; Wilds, first base: Becket, second base: Lawrence, third base: Hanley, shortstop: Dean, left field: Arlett, center field and Kennedy, right field. "Buck" Ebright and "Peck" Sharp are local candidates for that team, with Joe Cantillion and Hernen of the Oaklands, and one or two of the recent Sacramento pitchers,
but Cowan has not made his final selections.

but Cowan has not made his final selections.

The team assigned for Sacramento, or whatever city may take the sixth place, has "Chief" Borchers of the fallen Angels for pitcher, with young Hughes, a brother of the valiant "Buck," to assist him. McHale will catch, Campbell will cover second, Johnson will play third, and the shortstop is Denny. Other men spoken of are Hutchinson, Manassau, Moody, and an amateur named McDonald. The make-up may be changed if San Jose or Stockton gets the team, but these are the players that have been chosen by the prospective Sacramento manager.

The umpires will be Jim McDonald, Donahue and ex-Catcher Stevens.

It is understood that all of the presentions who were in the recent four-festionals who were in the recent four-many of the amateurs or the establishment of two more teams. The list of men not yet assigned includes Work and Levy of San Francisco, Peeples and some of the brightest lights of Sacramento and Oakland.

Under the terms given by Mr. Gilbert 60 per cent. of the gross receipts at each game will be divided equally among the players in the two teams, the costs of advertising, etc., to be paid by the league.

In obtaining the grounds Mr. Gilbert has personally guaranteed $300 a month to the Southern Facilic Company from now until next summer. Only the improvements belong to the railroad, the real estate being owned by the Crocker estate. For years the estate has been derlying $300 a month railroad, the real estate being owned by the Crocker estate. For years the estate has been deriving $300 a month for the field, but when the old lease was given up by Harris, Robinson and Finn a few weeks ago the representatives of the estate formulated a plan for dividing the grounds into building lots as the $300 monthly income from such a truct of land was considered too small. The railroad company, however, decided to continue the use of the field for baseball and other athletic sports on account of the value to etic sports on account of the value to the street-car traffic and so a new lease was permitted.

There is a present difficulty about obtaining the Sacramento grounds as, under the supposition that no more games would be played, the grand stand, bleachers and fence were sold. Unless a release from the sale can be made the Capital City will lose its team.

The new league will begin its season The new league will begin its season at the "San Francisco Recreation Grounds" on Saturday afternoon, with a game between the Scott & Gilberts and the Oaklands. On Sunday there will be three games: The Allens and Santa Rosas in this city, the Oaklands and Petalumas at Petaluma, and the Scott & Gilberts and the sixth team at the grounds of the latter.

for Disposing of the Same and Sup-pressing a Nuisance.

A committee from the City Council is conferring with the Board of Supervisors in reference to the disposal of the sewage from the County Hospital. One plan that has been suggested is to construct a sewer from the hospital northward across the line of the Southern Pacific Railway track, and on, so as to connect with the Mozart

It is expected, however, that the

It is expected, however, that the central intercepting sewer will soon be extended southward, not far from the river, so as to cross Macy street at a point near the Mission road.

It is thought therefore to be the more feasible plan to lay the sewer from the hospital along the Mission road so as to connect with the central intercepting sewer at the point where it crosses the road. This plan will involve the laying of a good deal more sewer than by the plan first mentioned above, but it is thought to be a certainty that the Mission road will some time have to be sewered anyway. If it be, then the line of sewer laid from the hospital across the railway will be unnecessary.

This being the case, it is arrued that
